How can you spot a DUI driver?

- ❖ Wide turns
- ❖ Crossing lines
- ❖ Weaving or swerving
- ❖ Stopping without cause
- ❖ Driving very fast or slow
- ❖ Slow response to traffic signals

The more of these signs the driver displays, the greater the chance that the driver is under the influence of alcohol and/or other drugs.

What can YOU do?

You can report the DUI driver by calling the REDDI (Report Every Drunk Driver Immediately) toll free number, 1-800-233-1212, or cellular *ISP.

What information do you need to report?

- ❖ Location
- ❖ Direction of travel
- ❖ Vehicle description (color, make, model)
- ❖ License plate number
- ❖ Number of people in vehicle
- ❖ Time observed

Are You Under 21?

To find out how to KEEP YOUR License

Don't let this happen to YOU

Choose NOT to Use Alcohol or Drugs

ON THE SPOT License Suspension

Law enforcement officers will take your driver's license ON THE SPOT if you are arrested for DUI. On a first offense, you will lose your license for 90 days if you fail evidentiary testing or 1 year with no driving privileges and a $250 civil penalty if you refuse to take a test. This is in addition to the criminal suspension and other penalties imposed by the court for a DUI offense.

Like it or not, if you are under 21, the law is very clear regarding the use of alcohol and/or drugs in Idaho.

Whether you are driving or not, possession or use of alcohol and/or drugs is against the law.
