Registration of Colors

Racing colors must be registered with the Idaho State Racing Commission when filing an application for horse Owner's license, and authority for the use of such colors must be sanctioned by the Racing Commission. No colors may bear any symbols or markings which could be interpreted as for advertising purposes. Any difference between claimants to the right particular colors shall be decided by the Stewards. The registered colors of an owner may not be registered by another, except after five years of non-use or abandonment by the registering owner. Any temporary change from the registered colors of the owner must be approved by the Stewards. Owner's colors only allowed in Stakes races unless prior approval has been obtained from the Board of Stewards.

Responsibility for Colors

The owner is responsible for the registration of colors and for their availability to and use by the jockey engaged to ride his horse. The Stewards may make a temporary substitution of colors when necessary.
