Welcome to the Idaho State Capitol,

The Idaho State Capitol has been a symbol of hope and resolve for many Idahoans over the past century. Residents of this great state have a long history of peaceful assembly and participation in their government. However, maintaining public order is essential in ensuring productive debate.

Those visiting the capitol are urged to respect the rules of the Idaho Legislature, which has the authority to set rules and decorum. These guidelines are designed to enable both public safety and the spirit of political debate. Rules can be found at <https://bit.ly/3lxm2qH> (Senate) and violations will result in action - which could include arrest &/or trespass from the premises.

All general rooms are open to the public until capacity is reached. At that time, proceedings may be available via live stream in designated overflow areas. When seating is limited, check the Legislative Information Desk located on the Garden Level of the central rotunda.

The public is reminded that legislative schedules may change with little or no notice for various reasons. Updated schedules are posted at legislature.idaho.gov/committees.

Public hours of operation during the 2023 Legislative Session are typically 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., with changes posted at <http://bit.ly/3CzU0Hc>.

Thank you.
